mVias Méditerranée

At one with the sea

Accommodation
2015

Welcome to Vias

In the Mediterranean region of the south of France, the village of Vias, department of the herault, enjoys a privileged position at the heart of the Pays d'Agde and the Pays de Pézenas communities, on the Mediterranean coastline.

Vias has a rich history which blends in beautifully with seaside pleasures and activities, and is rooted in a territory that has many different faces : if you head south, you will come across the Mediterranean and the fine sandy beaches, and if you move west, you will see the ancient Roque-Haute volcano, a wild flower nature reserve, whose volcanic stones were used to build the village, and finally to the north, a large stretch of meadow full of vineyards will surely grab your attention.

Along the banks of the Canal du Midi, from the river stop point to the Libron art structures, via the sunlit vines, mountain bike trails will lead you to discovery.

When you feel languid from the heat after a day spent at the beach, or after swimming in the sea, you are sure to appreciate the friendliness of this family orientated resort village, the colourful charm of the cool alleyways and the sunny public squares, the pleasure of strolling through the markets or wine sampling in a winery or estate.

Close your eyes and listen to the sea revealing its secrets... Imagine a holiday region that is in harmony with the horizon. Beneath the blue sky, the earth and the Mediterranean naturally become one, space is wide open and kites are the only sky scrapers you'll see.

Accommodation

Holiday lettings

The following holiday rentals are offered by private advertisers.

All of them are rated or have been awarded the labels "Clevacances" or "Gîtes de France", the two nationally recognized labels in terms of tourist accommodation. They have been inspected by an authorized technician and are awarded a "tourist" rating of between 1 and 5 stars according to their level of comfort and the types of services offered (this rating is renewed every five years). The ratings enable a better understanding of the accommodation on offer and serve as a guarantee of quality.

A "rural gîte" is a holiday home, renovated in traditional local style, and situated at the seaside, mountains or countryside, normally located in a rural setting and meeting the criteria of a quality charter offering guarantees as far as equipment, prices and services are concerned.
